Water Remains Major Concern

Little League Dates & Scores Townsmen Feature

Beginning with this issue, the TOWNSMAN will print the game schedules, scores and standings for the Little League Baseball season.

See this newspaper each Thursday for up-to-date information on both major and minor teams in the American and National League.

The schedule for this week's play, beginning Friday evening, and for the first week of May will be found on page 22.

There was official reluctance this week to speculate about just how well fixed Andover will be, when the spring rain season is ended, to supply its residents with water through another summer drought.

Manager Richard Bowen is adamant, however about one thing: the town's reservoirs are not sufficiently full at this time to warrant an easing of water restrictions. He has been under some pressure, particularly from Selectman Sidney P. White, to lift the ban for a few weeks to permit hose watering of shrubs and trees.

Monday, after listening to a review of progress with a professional well drilling survey, the selectmen voted to continue exploration in the areas still considered good prospects for heavy producing wells and they will re-

Clean-up Campaign Begins Here Sunday

The town will launch its second annual Clean-up Month May 1, but plans of a citizens steering committee are for a campaign that will focus all out activity during the eight day period between May 14 and 21.

With a barrage of publicity and grassroots promotion by civic-oriented organizations, the committee hopes to whip the public into enthusiasm for a massive program of house and grounds cleaning that will come to a climax the weekend of May 14 and 15.

Property owners who meet this deadline will have debris assembled in time for free collection by trucks from the Department of Public Works. Beginning May 16, a DPW fleet will start through the town, precinct by precinct.

The committee, headed by Charles W. Smith of the Village Improvement Society, is interested in more than a homeowners' campaign, however. Its members envision a month-long program of clean-up, beautification (the planting of trees, shrubs, flowers, property painting etc.) and education that would lead not only to a townwide clean-up but also to eventual general recognition of the fact that every citizen is responsible

Ceremony Saturday

Fifth District Rep. Albert P. Pettoruto was nominated Wednesday by Gov. John A. Volpe for a judgeship with the Essex County Probate Court.

The nomination has been forwarded to the Governor's Council and should be considered within a week to 10 days.

Rep. Pettoruto is in his fourth year as a representative to the Massachusetts Legislature where he is a member of both the judiciary committee and the committee of bills on third reading. He is also counsel to the Republican

Some 200 people who have taken an active part or shown a deep interest in preparations for construction of the new senior high school building off Shawshen Road have been invited to attend the laying of its cornerstone at a 2:30 p.m. ceremony Saturday.

Pats On Back Slow In Coming

There must be something good Andover citizens can say about their municipal government, their schools or the work of elected and paid officials.

But you wouldn't know it from the response thus far to the TOWNSMAN'S Accentuate the Positive promotion.

In the May 5 issue, to coordinate with the celebration of Founders' Day on May 6, the TOWNSMAN will print any and all letters from citizen's which have something good to say about how this community is run and the people who run it.

Don't just think about it. Write today.

CLEAN-UP MONTH, which begins May 1, should be a dandy time for property owners to tackle the job of removing such eyesores as this, prominently located on a main traffic artery. A citizens' committee is at work on plans for encouraging the razing of such ramshackle buildings, removal of junk cars and the clean-up of lesser debris throughout the town. (Cole)

Andover Boosts GL Chamber

Raytheon Plant Manager Harry A. Loebel said Monday that the "Andover Chamber is a tower of strength in the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce."

The Andover executive was reporting to a luncheon audience of business and professional people on his year as president of the Greater Lawrence organization. Loebel particularly commended the local chamber, an affiliate of the area group, for its participation as a sponsor of the 1965 Founders' Day banquet for Andover town employees, its work in co-operation with the town in the study of downtown parking conditions and proposals for solutions, its Christmas lighting program and for recent publication of a buyers' guide which includes information on Andover's history, institutions, facilities etc.

At their annual business meeting at Andover Country Club, chamber members voted in a new board of 23 directors and then sat in on the board's election of Dr. Salvatore F. Cataudella as president of the Greater Lawrence Chamber.

Serving with the Lawrence dentist will be Atty. Michael J. Batal Jr., vice president; Russell T. Gladwin, clerk; and Charles A. Avallone, treasurer.

Andover residents elected to the board, some of whom represent Lawrence businesses, include: Richard C. White, Winthrop Newcomb, John M. Galber, John C. Young, John P. S. Doherty, Edward J. Donahue, Alfred F. Contarino, A. D. MacLaren and William G. Kurth. Others on the board are Charles T. Matthes, Albert B. Gordon, G. Thomas Catalano, Robert L. Gable, John J. Goodwill, Dr. Cataudella, Atty. Batal, R. T. Gladwin, Ralph Q. Steadman, A. M. Sullivan, Sam J. Russo, Thomas Leone, J. S. Dolan, Joseph A. Torrisi, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph P. Burke, Antonio A. Lupo and Charles A. Avallone.

A five man executive committee will be nominated at a May board meeting.

Banquet Tonight

Chamber members, their wives and guests will gather tonight at Andover's Rolling Green Motor Inn for a dinner dance which will begin with a social hour at 6 p.m.

Speaking will be Syracuse University Professor Irving Berman. Using the topic "Creative Localism," the professor will suggest some answers to both the physical and human problems facing this area. Prof. Berman, who is on the staff of Syracuse University's Chamber of Commerce Institute, has held numerous municipal posts in the Syracuse government.

Because the chamber has adopted new bylaws reducing the number of directors on its board from 47 to 27, the largest group of retiring directors in the organization's history will be honored at the annual banquet.

In this group will be: Marshall S. Kates, Edward J. Keisling, Leslie N. Hutchinson, Edward T. Habeeb, Mrs. Louise Haffner Fournier, Walter V. Demers Jr., Robert E. Christ, Emerson P. Barrett, Charles Ash and Atty. Allen J. Ash.

Theodore L. Russem, Irving E. Rogers Jr., Timothy J. Scanlon, Earl M. Sargent, Arthur B. Marden, Albert P. Manzi, Francis J. MacDonald, Robert E. Maguire, Daniel J. Murphy Jr. and William E. Moriarty.

Charles J. McCabe, Harold L. Whitworth, Alexander H. Weiner, Walter N. Webster, Ernest D. Stansfield, Charles W. Seifert, Robert A. Watters and Harry N. Snook.

Certificates Presented

Recognition was given chairmen who have headed a variety of GL Chamber committees over the past year at Monday's luncheon.

Retiring President Loebel presented certificates of service to the following:

Shaffie J. Mallen, President Elect Cataudella, John H. Privitera, Pluri R. Piazza, Austin E. Anderson, Robert L. Reddish, Stanley F. Swanton, David S. Woodworth, Paul J. McVey and George

Peace Corps Test May 14

Andover area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world have been invited to the Peace Corps Placement Test at 9 a.m. on Saturday, May 14, at the Lawrence Post Office.

The Peace Corps uses the Placement Test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn language, not education or achievement. (If test scores indicated limited language-learning ability, for example, the Peace Corps might place the applicant in an English speaking country.) The Placement Test requires no preparation and is non-competitive - an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The application form, not the Placement Test, is the most important factor in the selection process. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C.

Heseltine, Robert E. Christ, John J. Goodwill, James Caldwell, Rachel Desrochers, Arnold H. Spofford, Gardner M. McCartney, Alexander H. Weiner, Sam J. Russo, Hans Sidon and Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph P. Burke.

Russell T. Gladwin, P. Edward Staats, Joseph L. Daly, Frank Mitchell, Charles H. Turner, Harry N. Snook, Raymond Monahan, Mrs. Louise Haffner Fournier and Ralph Q. Steadman.

New Bureau
In reviewing the work of GL Chamber last year, President Loebel spoke of the values the Valley can expect to derive eventually from the work of a convention and visitors bureau created to sell the advantages of the Lawrence area as a center for small conventions and as a way stop over for tourists. He pointed out that intersections Route 495 and 93 in the area have increased the attractiveness of Greater Lawrence for such purposes.

Loebel pointed out that studies show 28 visitors can add as much to a local economy in three days as a business doing $100,000 a year in sales.

He specifically mentioned the work of the chamber's industrial division in organizing a P Club program for 350 high school students interested in learning about some 17 career fields and the potential for employment in this area.

Inter-related is a new program of orientation for high school teachers to acquaint them with the employment picture in Greater Lawrence and the sort of positions prospective employees will have to be prepared to meet if they seek jobs with industries and businesses in the area.

The 1966 re-appointment of four educational people who serve the school department in professional capacities was approved Tuesday by the School Committee.

They were: Dr. John J. McArdle, school physician, $1,500; Dr. William V. Emmons, visual consultant, $350; Dr. Frank Himmer, school dentist, advisory position; and Officer William Tammany, attendance officer, $200.

Committeeman Robert Sherman expressed an interest in knowing whether other qualified people are given an opportunity to apply for these posts. He made it clear he has no objection to the people who have held these positions for some years, but is merely interested in what opportunity exists for anyone who would like to apply.

35 Dancers Graduated

Members of the Twilight Twirlers, a local square dance club, will attend the New England Square Dance Convention in Manchester, N. H., April 29 and 30.

About 5,000 dancers, both adults and teen-agers, are expected to attend. Co-ordinators for the Andover group are Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey A. Stewart.

Thirty-five members of the Twilight Twirlers were graduated last week at the club's third square dance graduation held at the Central Elementary School, Robert F. Baillie, caller and class instructor, presented diplomas and badges to the group.

Andover graduates are Jini Berg, Linda Birch, Sharon Briggs, Gary Cole, Pamela Darby, Roberta Eichhorn, Michelle Ferreira, Greg Greenhow, Carol Huot, Roger Jenkins, Karol Klempa, Jill Markert, Gail Marshall, Kris and Karen

Future club activities will be a Teen Jamboree on May 22 at the Newton Pavilion, Newton, N. H., a June picnic and a July beach party.

More than 200 members of the Andover Rocketeers square dance club will also attend the annual convention in Manchester, N. H. This local club with its 658 members is the largest of more than 600 such groups in the New England area.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Scott, 97 Chestnut St., last year's convention chairmen, are current presidents of the Eastern District Square and Round Dance Assn. This group and the New England Council of Callers Assn. are co-sponsors of dancers' convention. The Andover couple will take part in the panel presentations on Saturday.

Pesticides for vegetables must be selected and used with far greater care than is the case with those for ornamental plants, cautions Horticulture magazine. For best results, sprays should be applied at the first sign of insects and repeated within 7 to 10 days, if the infestation continues.

In A Word...

IN ONLY 16 YEARS...

It's a fact: Seven out of every 10 prescriptions today are for drugs that were not even known in 1950—only 16 years ago.

How come? Research is the answer. What of the future? The pharmaceutical industry this year will invest over $350 million on more research. That's nine times as much as was invested in 1950.

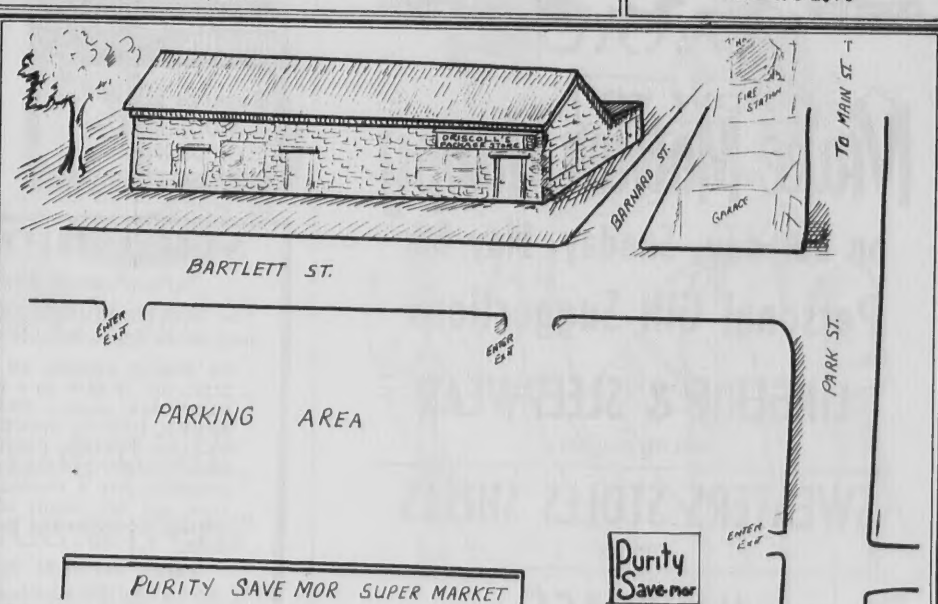

And 98% of drug industry research is industry-financed... only 2% is government-financed.

Quite a record? Quite a success!

for helping to keep Andover litter free, High School Principal Philip Wormwood reports.

The committee will work through the press and through various organizations to spur both individual and group action.

Pick Up Rules

Specific dates for precinct trash collections will be announced in the May 5 issue of the TOWNSMAN.

Manager Richard Bowen has already, however, established the ground rules.

1. The town will pick up any trash, junk or whatever that can be lifted and carried by two men.

2. Limbs and other such grounds debris will be taken away if cut into manageable lengths (three feet or so) and tied together.

3. All other rubbish must be bundled or put in disposable containers such as cardboard boxes or cartons which need not be emptied and returned.

4. All items for collection must be close to the curb or front property line. DPW men will not go into backyards or elsewhere to make pick ups.

5. There will be no pickup of lumber and other construction materials from demolished buildings.

6. There will be no call backs. Property owners must have their rubbish visible on the specified day for their precinct.

Committee Members

Working on plans for the Clean-up Month promotion are Karen Lundgren (Free Church Youth Groups), Peter Chase (Episcopal Young Church), Austin Anderson (Chamber of Commerce), Mirrian C. Ryan (Four Seasons Garden Society), John T. Cole (Fire Dept.), Sue Ann Hutchinson (Shawsheen Women's Club), Stanley Chlebow-ski (Highway Dept.), and Theodore Acosta (Ballardvale Community Association). Other groups expected to be represented on the committee, which meets again April 28, are West Andover Community Center, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Andover Garden Club, Spade & Trowel Garden Club, Junior Garden Club and League of Women Voters.

Industry Is Sought

An attorney for the Valle Steak House chain told the Board of Selectmen Monday that he is negotiating with some "hot prospects" for the sale of industrially zoned land adjacent to the Route 93-River Road construction site held by Valle's.

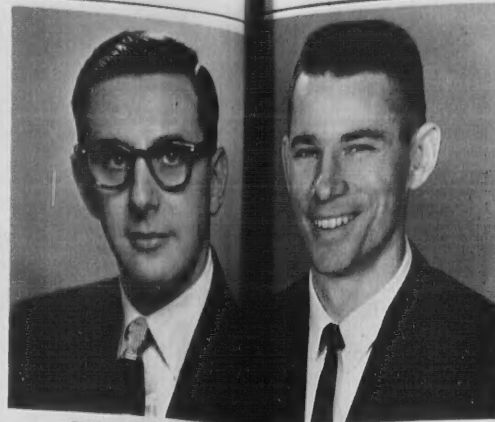

Reporting that he is seeking industrial development for the area in cooperation with the owner of the balance of the Shattuck farm, Kenneth E. Latham said he hoped to have some "good news" for the town in the near future.

Introduced to the board was Richard Valle, son of the founder of the steak house chain, who will manage the Andover restaurant, now under construction.

Latham said the steak house would open June 1, a date that is two weeks later than that originally set. He said construction of the 130 motel unit which is to be part of the complex should get underway in 1967.

NEWS CAPSULE

The Ford Foundation has just approved a four-year grant of $375,000 to the Massachusetts Audubon Society so that it may administer a new program to strengthen public education and information activities of private and public conservation organizations, particularly in New England.

DAVID H. SIMONDS

Big Future For Plastics

"A careening 'roller coaster ride' in plastics technology," was predicted by David H. Simonds, director of advertising for the chemical plastics division of The General Tire & Rubber Co., in an address Wednesday before the 1966 Mass Merchandising Conference in Atlantic City, N. J.

The Conference, sponsored by the University of Massachusetts, took as its theme, "Five Years Hence."

Mr. Simonds, speaking of the many areas of merchandise that will be affected by plastic developments and changing consumer habits, drew a picture of broad changes in many merchandise categories.

"Watch for a new generation of disposables for the home—dinnerware, pots, pans and silverware, as we know it today could disappear. Blankets, sheets, pillowcases and clothing will soon be readily available in disposable editions," he said.

Among other things he predicted that "Blow-molded plastic bottles now used for cosmetics and detergents will replace the can and glass bottles now used for soft drinks and beer. Milk is already being delivered in clear plastic disposable bottles on a test market basis."

Mr. Simonds makes his headquarters at the Bolta products division in Lawrence. He resides at 110 Lovejoy Rd., Andover.

Holovak Is PTA Speaker

The South School PTA invited the public to attend its May 11 meeting when Mike Holovak, Boston Patriots general manager, will speak. A short film, "The Spirit of the New Boston," will be shown at 7:30 p.m. before the popular former star fullback speaks.

The onetime American Football League Coach of the Year will appear as a representative of H. P. Hood & Sons' physical fitness program.

Coach Holovak and the Boston Patriots will return to Andover for their pre-season training camp in late summer.

DR. TEX S. SAMPLE

VCW Lunch On May 6

The United Church Women of Andover will observe May Fellowship Day at an annual luncheon scheduled for South Church Fellowship Hall on Friday, May 6, at 12:30 p.m.

Rev. Dr. Tex S. Sample will speak on the subject "People, Poverty and Plenty". Since 1964 he has been director of the department of social relations for the denomination Massachusetts Council of Churches.

A native of Mississippi, Dr. Sample studied at Louisiana State University and is a graduate of Mississippi College, Jackson, Miss. In 1960 he received his bachelor's degree in theology from Boston University and holds a doctor of philosophy degree in social studies from the same university. During 1962-63 he was Human Relations Fellow at BU's Human Relations Center.

Mrs. William Ash, Mrs. John Brown and Mrs. Roy Coombs Jr. are members of the host church committee planning the world day observance.

Other church representatives are Mrs. J. Henry Butler, Andover Baptist; Mrs. Richard Pieters, Andover Presbyterian; Mrs. Norman Randall, Christ Episcopal; Mrs. Garland Gifford, Faith Lutheran; Mrs. William Paterson, Free Christian; and Mrs. William McFarlane, United Ballard Vale.

Mrs. Kenneth Minard invites all Andover women to join in this world-wide observance by Christian women.

Tickets for the luncheon may be obtained by contacting any church representative. Baby-sitting will be provided.

AUXILIARY OFFICIAL ASSISTS COMMITTEE

Mrs. Herbert Folley of Andover, past department president of the State Ladies Auxiliary to the VFW, is working with a committee on plans for the Department of Massachusetts' annual Military Ball April 29.

The event will be held at the War Memorial on Cambridge St., Cambridge. Attending as guest of honor will be VFW Commander-in-Chief Andy Borg of Superior, Wis.

r Plastics

A careering 'roller coaster' in plastics technology, was selected by David H. Simonds, director of advertising for the plastics division of the Federal Tire & Rubber Co., in an address Wednesday before the 1966 Merchandising Conference in Atlantic City, N. J.

Simonds, speaking of the areas of merchandise that be affected by plastic developments and changing consumer habits, drew a picture of changes in many merchandise categories.

Watch for a new generation of plastics for the home—dinner pots, pans and silverware. We know it today could disappear. Blankets, sheets, pillows and clothing will soon be available in disposable editions, he said.

Among other things he predicted 'blow-molded plastic bottles' used for cosmetics and detergents will replace the canisters now used for soft drinks. Milk is already being offered in clear plastic bottles on a test market.

Simonds makes his headquarters at the Bolta products division in Lawrence. He resides at Lovejoy Rd., Andover.

Guest Minister
At Free Church

Rev. Rodrigo Vega, minister to the Puerto Rican community in Lawrence, will preach at Free Christian Church Sunday.

In his mission to the Puerto Ricans, Rev. Vega welcomes new families and helps them to find their way in the American community and experience. His efforts have received the attention and acclaim of several churches in Greater Lawrence.

At a recent meeting of the Andover Assn., he stated that nowhere had he found such a friendly welcome to his people as here in eastern Massachusetts.

Arrangements for the guest preacher were made by the Free Church social action committee, Mrs. Alfred Fuller, chairman.

Health Agencies Announce
Joint Annual Conventions

Three voluntary health agencies will combine their annual meeting on Wednesday, May 4, when the Essex County Health Assn., the Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health League and the Middlesex Tuberculosis and Health Assn. meet together.

The three associations will each hold independent board of directors' meetings prior to the dinner, and will gather later in the ballroom of the Colonial Inn, Route 128, Wakefield, for the annual dinner meeting.

James G. Stone, executive secretary of the National Tuberculosis Assn. will be guest speaker. Mr. Stone is retiring from the TB association after many years of service during which he has seen the growth of the tuberculosis movement and the increasing participation of the associations in the fight against the disease. He will make some predictions about what lies ahead for voluntary health associations in the next ten years. The title of his talk is "In The Spirit of '76—What will we be doing in 1976?"

The Massachusetts Thoracic Society will present its Claude Award, the highest award given by the society for outstanding achievement in the field of tuberculosis and respiratory disease, and the Essex County Health Assn. plans to present a Distinguished Service Award to one of its members.

The public is invited. Reservations for dinner may be made at the Essex County Health Assn. office, 222 Cabot St., Beverly, Mass.

Thomas Tavenner, the Board of Selectmen has approved the appointment of Fred Yancy as a special constable in connection with his position as custodian at Central St.

Fifth District Congressman Bradford Morse this week called Secretary of Commerce John F. Kennedy to maintain export controls on U. S. cattle hides "for the protection of the American consumer and the huge investment in U. S. shoe and leather industry in New England," he said. Congressman cited the direct relationships between the price of domestic hides and the price of shoes. "The cost of leather is about half the cost of a good pair of shoes."

Thomas Foster, choirmaster and organist at Christ Church, has accepted a similar position with Calvary Episcopal Church, Williamsville, N. Y., a Buffalo suburb. His resignation will be effective about June 15. The North Carolina native has been in Andover since 1964.

Hogan, representing Massachusetts was among 67 civilians who represent the Army in every state, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. He assists the secretary, Stanley R. Resor, by interpreting Army policies and objectives for civilians in his communities. He also assists by advising the secretary on matters of mutual interest to the public and the Army.

Church Historian Speaker For Council Lecture Series

Rev. Donald F. Winslow, an Episcopal clergyman, will present a series of three lectures on the subject "Changing Patterns of a Changeless Faith", at South Church, Andover. The lectures are part of the series sponsored annually by the Andover Council of Churches. They are to be given at 7:30 p.m. on May 8, 15 and 22.

He has just completed two years of teaching at Harvard Divinity School where he is working on a Ph.D. in church history. He is also an associate minister at Our Redeemer Episcopal Church in Lexington.

After graduating from Harvard University in 1950 with a major in philosophy, Rev. Winslow joined the Navy as an officer and served in the Korean Conflict. He received a BD degree at Virginia Theological Seminary in 1956 and then served a parish in Washington, D. C. In 1957-1958 he studied Japanese at the Yale Institute of Far Eastern Languages and subsequently went to Japan where he served a parish and lectured in church history at Bishop Williams Theological School in Kyoto, Japan. Mr. Winslow will lecture in Andover on the subjects of theology, morality and politics and their relation to the changing patterns of the Christian Faith. Each year the council churches bring to Andover lectures, who maintain a high level of scholarship with concern for the needs and interests of the laity. In recent years, the lectures have been given by such nationally and internationally known men as Prof. Ernest Wright of Harvard University.

It is the council's belief that close contact with men of such caliber enables untrained laymen to encounter first hand theological thinking on issues which are of concern to him.

Litter Sense

Andover is a handsome town. Despite the shabby business buildings that dot its downtown center, the community is dominated overall by enough natural and man-made beauty to give it a New England image second to none.

But no place is perfect, not even this residential garden-spot.

It is for this reason that the town government has designated May as Clean-up Month and solicited the aid of a number of public and civic agencies in organizing a program of activities. The campaign has been slow in getting off the ground, but a handful of enthusiasts are at work to put some snap into the effort to trigger a concentrated burst of activity beginning the weekend of May 13 and 14.

The committee wants to get the public behind not only a May Clean-up venture, but involved with beautification and an information program as well. If citizens can be made to realize that litter is everybody's business and that the full responsibility for a better looking Andover cannot be shoved off on the Board of Public Works, it could generate a spirit of cooperation that would stir action throughout the year.

Civic pride can work miracles. If community and neighborhood feeling is displayed vigorously enough, the worst offenders may be embarrassed into getting junk cars off their property, razing dilapidated structures, sprucing up long-neglected ones and hauling off debris. Responsible citizens, as individuals or groups, may set an example for those who are less thoughtful about democracy's minor chores by helping to police the roadside areas, open fields and such that seem to be nobody's worry. Seeing them about it could do more to encourage the development of a thoughtful future generation than all the wailing done about how young people today have no respect for the property of others.

The opportunities for public littering are greater than ever before in history. People get about more and their way is paved with sandwich bars and ice cream stands that sell their wares in disposable packages. It is easy to make these vendors the scapegoat: easier than to admit that away from home many a normally refined American is sometimes content to give in to his baser instincts.

If we clean up Andover this May and make a fresh start toward a day-to-day awareness that it makes more sense to prevent litter than create it, one little civic campaign will have influenced a whole generation of potential litterbugs.

We would like to see the Andover Chamber of Commerce spark this drive, for the good of the community.

Hemming & Hawing

All this official hemming and hawing over approval of the manager's annual appointments to town committees and boards is ridiculous.

The charter gives the Board of Selectmen responsibility for functioning as a check and balance in this area of governmental organization. It is a power they should exercise with judgment, but also with dispatch.

There is nothing in the charter that says the full board must be in attendance when appointments are considered. There is no requirement that approvals be unanimous.

Why then has this present board chosen to procrastinate and procrastinate because first one and then another of its members is absent from a regularly scheduled meeting? They pretend it is a matter of courtesy: we spell it "politics."

Any and every selectman has the right to offer the manager advice about his appointments, but advice and nothing more. Any and every selectman has a right to voice his objection to any appointee. But if he cannot be on hand to vote while the municipal year is still young, he should register a vote with the secretary in advance. If there is no provision in the bylaws for such a procedure, perhaps there ought to be.

In any event, the matter of appointments should be settled no later than April 1. This means, as we see it, that the manager should be prepared with his full list of proposals as one package (something Bowen almost, but not quite, managed this year) and that the board should consider it at the first possible session after each annual town meeting.

It is a schedule that should be religiously observed.

Compliance with the charter is something that should be taken more seriously also by Moderator Arthur Williams. Last May we chastized Rep. Williams for his failure to name members of the Finance Committee until weeks and weeks after the stipulated deadline. Each newly elected moderator is required by the charter to make his appointments known at Town Meeting.

Now, we raise again our cry of last spring: "How about it Arthur?"

Re-elected, Williams continues as moderator. And once again Andover is limping along with a lameduck Finance Committee.

Without doubt, the board we have would function in an emergency, just as it did prior to the special town meeting called some weeks ago for appropriation of additional school construction funds.

But nevertheless, it is a sloppy way to do business.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago — April, 1891

Hardy & Cole are to build a large piazza on J. W. Berry's house on Chestnut Street.

Plant a tree, a vine, a shrub; something to tell in years to come that in 1891 spring was real to you. We are proud in Andover of our beautiful streets, but many will still bear another maple or elm or ash to add to the beauty of our town. Let tomorrow see many tree-plantings in old Andover's domains.

Charles G. Hussey has his mill yard nearly cleaned up of logs, having had plenty of water to saw there. (Hussey's Pond)

A tin peddler offered to tell Farmer Davis of Ohio where $5,000 in gold was buried on his farm, if he would hand over $300. Farmer Davis sold two horses and paid over the money, and although he has rooted up about 10 acres of ground, he has thus far missed the iron bound box.

Miss Jennie Snow, second daughter of the late David Snow, was married Wednesday afternoon to James M. Cox of Boston.

Miss Rebecca Mills was expected to sail from England for New York Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mills and Frank S. Mills will meet her at New York.

Mrs. M. E. Dalton, Eunice Stack and Charles Dalton attended the dancing reception given by Mis-

Harold and George Saunders spent the weekend at Fosters Pond.

We are glad to see that Ballardvale is to have a Village Improvement Society, and with the very best of good wishes we want to extend every aid that the Townsman can render to the good work proposed by that organization. In the outline of work we failed to see any reference made to the old factory which has long been a blot on the landscape. The Townsman will go far enough in aiding the Ballardvale Society as to head a subscription and do everything that it possibly can to find some way to relieve this disfigurement.

Mrs. George D. Ward of Lowell Street visited during the week with her daughter, Mrs. James Marshall of Medford.

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the Townsman: Thank goodness for your courageous approach to the subject of the proposed Veterans Building.

As pointed out, Andover is one of the few towns in the United States that pays the rents for veterans organizations. In the vast majority of cities and towns these organizations are self-sustaining in every respect. These organizations raise their money internally and via fund raising activities generally associated with any other private group. I am sure that the American Legion at the national and state levels would not subscribe to this type of subsidization at the local level.

I would hope that the Selectmen of Andover feel that this appropriation of $3,000.00 for rent for very few veterans should be continued immediately and have this money allocated to a project that would benefit all veterans and citizens alike.

WATER SITUATION

quest the Finance Committee to authorize a $5,000 transfer from available funds for the project. At the time the committee approved the initial $5,000 budget item for the survey, its members indicated a willingness to provide additional financing should it seem necessary.

On the basis of what the selectmen heard from James J. Geraghty, a partner in the consulting firm handling the geological search for fresh ground water supplies, they decided to take a calculated risk that completion of the survey would produce better possibilities than have been tapped thus far.

The Situation
Briefing the board on current water conditions, Manager Bowen told members that as of Monday, 11 a.m., roughly 30 million gallons of water had been pumped into Haggitt's Pond from the new Fish Brook pumping station. The town is presently pumping from the brook at the rate of 2 million gallons per day.

In spite of this water relief and the fact that consumption is holding at a conservative rate, Bowen reported that on Monday Haggitt's Pond was still 40 inches below its maximum level and about one foot under where it stood on the same date a year ago.

Both the manager and Selectman White were armed with precipitation statistics, collected from the Essex Co. in Lawrence to document their contentions that to date 1966 has produced both more and less moisture than it did during the same period in 1965.

(Also using Essex Co. figures, and converting snowfall inches to a rainfall equivalent, the TOWNSMAN has concluded that roughly 15.7 inches of precipitation fell here in the first three months of 1966 as compared with approximately 9.5 inches for January, February and March of 1965.

During Monday's discussion of conflicting figures, Manager Bowen made it clear that regardless of whether or not more or less rain has fallen in 1966, the facts remain the same: Haggitt's Pond is far from full.

Reporting that consumption of water is at a lower rate than usual for this season, Bowen said he considers this an indication that municipal water restrictions are working.

Gloomy about prospects for later lifting of the water restrictions, the manager said the most he can say is that town officials should know within about three weeks how critical our summer water situation will be.

As a reminder, he mentioned the fact that watering of shrubs and trees is permitted even when present restrictions so long as it is done with buckets, not hoses.

Plans are ready, the manager also reported, for the new Croft reservoir for which he will request $800,000 at the 1967 Town Meeting.

He also told the board that town will pump water from the Shawshoan to protect its investment in land development seeding at the site for the new senior high school.

It is easy to dodge our responsibilities, but we cannot dodge the consequences of dodging responsibilities.

converting snowfall inches to rainfall equivalent, the Town of Andover has concluded that roughly 10 inches of precipitation is equivalent to 1 inch of rainfall. In the first three months of the season, as compared with approximately 9.5 inches for January, February and March of 1966, the figures are 11.5 inches. During Monday's discussion of whether or not more rain has fallen in 1966, the figures remain the same. Haggerty is far from full.

Poet Viereck Will Lecture

Pulitzer prize-winning poet Peter Viereck will present the annual lecture in a Temple Emanuel series Wednesday, May 4, at 8 p.m. in the Temple Emanuel, Lawrence, Mass. The Mt. Holyoke College professor's subject will be "A Revolution of the Heart: the Soviet Rebel Poets with American Parallels". The public is invited to attend this lecture, admission free.

Prof. Viereck was graduated summa cum laude from Harvard in 1937, did graduate work at Christ Church, Oxford, and in 1942 took his doctor of philosophy degree in history at Harvard. He was one of the few students in Harvard history to receive both the Garrison prize for the best undergraduate verse and the Bowdoin prize for the best philosophical prose. He has since made an international reputation in both fields.

Now much in demand in Europe as a lecturer and poetry reader, Prof. Viereck first went abroad in 1949 under a Guggenheim fellowship to write poetry. His first book of poems, "Terror and Decorum", brought him the Pulitzer Prize in 1949. Other volumes he has written are "Strike Through the Mask", "The First Morning" and "The Persimmon Tree". In 1961 the world premiere of his verse drama, "The Tree Witch", was presented at the Loeb Drama Center of Harvard.

His "Metapolitics: The Roots of the Nazi Mind", has been called the best psychological study of Nazi roots by some authorities. Two Viereck volumes defending the free western heritage against communism and fascism are "The Unadjusted Man: A New Hero for Americans" and "Conservatism: From John Adams to Churchill."

What's this got to do with Furnishing for your home . . ?

We use the illustration to make a point. There's an old saw to the effect that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. The adage has broad applications . . . and in home furnishing and decorating, it isn't a truth.

Case histories have shown that time and again, homemakers in the process of decorating or redecorating and furnishing a home (or even single rooms) have been disappointed because "it didn't come out quite as I had hoped." A costly failing.

At the Studio Shoppe, we eliminate all guesswork . . . the need for mental images. An exclusive service here provides a staff of interior designers, sketch artists plus our complete rug and drapery departments. This staff suggests, coordinates and most important, produces color drawings for you to see, showing the completed room or rooms exactly as they will appear in your home.

Now you can see color harmonies and furniture balance - no guessing. It's a free service, yours without obligation.

Remember, too, you'll always find Studio Shoppe ideas within your means . . . you save so much here!

Easter Campaign Short Of Funds

Only an additional $177.00 is needed from friends of crippled children and adults in the community to meet the $1,350.00 local goal of the Easter Seal campaign according to announcement by Chester T. Jenkins, assistant treasurer of the Andover Savings Bank, who is area treasurer for the annual drive.

Jenkins urges residents who have not contributed to send their gift to him in care of the bank to ensure that the goal will be reached so that no crippled child or adult who needs help will be denied.

AVIS Organizes Series Of Tours

The Andover Village Improvement Society (AVIS), a citizens' conservation organization, has scheduled a series of three spring tours to acquaint individuals and group leaders with the beauty, accessibility and natural features of some of its land holdings.

The tours are scheduled for May 1, May 5 and May 14.

On May 1, Mrs. Waters Kellogg and Mrs. Per Bro will take interested persons on a hike through what the society calls its Vale Reservation, a tract of land lying between the railroad tracks and the Shawheen River in Ballardvale. A leisurely Sunday afternoon walk is planned and should be of particular interest to gardeners and wildflower enthusiasts who will learn of the varieties of ferns and wildflowers growing in that area. The tour, which is to leave at 2:30 p.m. from the Ballardvale railroad crossing, will take an estimated one and one half hours.

The May 5 tour, designed primarily for Girl Scout, Campfire Girls, and other interested youth group leaders, will leave at 9:30 a.m. from St. Augustine's parking lot across from the church on Essex St., Wolf Berthold and Mrs. Bro will lead participants to the entrances of major AVIS reservations, point out some of the outstanding attractions of each, and outline procedures for group use. This tour also will give new members of the Society an opportunity to learn about AVIS properties first hand. They are especially urged to join this tour.

The third tour, to be led by Mrs. Kellogg and Berthold, will begin on Saturday, May 14, at 10:30 a.m. at the West Parish Church. This hike will be through the Society's Deer Jump Reservation, a 2.3 mile strip of land along the Merrimack River starting at the site of the town's new Fish Brook Dam. AVIS officials warn that this is a fairly strenuous hike and suggest that those planning to make the round trip should allow 4-5 hours and bring along a picnic lunch. Provision can be made for a shorter trip of about 2 hours, however. Families with very small children who may find the going rather rough may prefer this arrangement.

AVIS, a non-profit organization, owns a number of properties, all of which are open to the general public. Persons interested in membership in the conservation organization should contact Mrs. Joshua Miner or Miss Ruth Hayes.

Tax Study To Begin

In an estimated two weeks, Whipple & Magane will begin the lengthy process of estimating the present day value of all Andover real estate, kicking off a major tax equalization program.

Manager Richard Bowen said this week that he has signed a $38,500 contract with the Andover firm for work which is to be completed in time to be reflected in 1967 property tax bills. Money for the survey was voted at the March Town Meeting.

The manager said the equalization study will be somewhat more extensive than he originally anticipated, but will not duplicate all the mapping and measuring of properties undertaken in the revaluation program of a few years ago. Included will be an inspection of the interior of every building in Andover, a procedure considered necessary in view of the broad range of construction activity in the community.

The estimators will check each property against present assessors' records, updating where necessary. In addition, Whipple & Magane will do a detailed sales analysis on properties.

Bowen pointed out, however, that the final establishing of values for tax purposes will be handled by the local Board of Assessors, not Whipple & Magane.

The firm contracted to conduct the equalization study will make as many as two call backs at each property where they do not find someone at home the first time around. They will not enter a property unless someone 18 years of age or older is at home, he said.

If these representatives of the town are denied entrance to any property, they will have to make an estimate based on what they can observe. This procedure, said the manager, is seldom in the best interest of the taxpayer.

Manager Bowen said it is impossible at this point to predict whether or not the town will net any appreciable increase in tax revenues as a result of the survey to be undertaken.

The survey is not being undertaken with this end as a primary objective, he said. It is intended that bringing evaluations in line with current market values will lead to more equitable distribution of the property tax burden. The process may mean tax increases for some and decreases for others, Bowen explained.

Sidewalk Bazaar Meeting Scheduled For Next Week

Andover merchants will meet May 5 with representatives of various church, civic and fraternal organizations interested in participation in the 1966 Sidewalk Bazaar. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the community room at the Bay State Merchants Bank, 84 Main St.

Though letters of invitation have been sent to officials of groups operating booths or amusements in other years, Alex Y. Milne stressed Tuesday that representatives from other local clubs etc. are invited and urged to attend.

The Bazaar is scheduled for June 24 and 25.

Thursday's meeting is being held to permit coordination in the early planning stages, Milne said. This will eliminate the possibility that two or more groups schedule the same sort of fund raising activity.

The bazaar is a retail sales promotion of the Andover Chamber of Commerce which has grown into a community affair. Non-profit organizations are given the opportunity to raise funds through a variety of activities that add color to the downtown event. As in previous years, Main Street will be closed to traffic during the bazaar along the Town Hall block. Parking will be restricted on Main Street from Chestnut to Pumphard. The selectmen approved requests for these plans on Monday.

One of the tests of leadership is the ability to recognize a problem before it becomes an emergency.
